Britain's great post-war Music Festival, to be held in Edinburgh August 22 to September 12, is expected to have a record sales of $100,000 for thousands of visitors who will hear the world's most distinguished singers, instrumentalists and orchestras. Last year the festival lost about $80,000, but was believed to have brought about $400,000 of tourist trade to Scotland.

A BBC Olympic broadcast mistimed to the tune of a great embarrassment. "Here is the voice of Mel Patton," said the announcer. Silence. "And here is the voice of Mrs. Fanny Blunkers-Koen," he said. Silence. Then he apologized: "I am sorry to say that the voices are not available."

ARCHBISHOP GARBUTT ... The world needs Christ.

Religion

Most Rev. Cyril Garbutt, Archbishop of York, told church leaders crowding Westminster Abbey for the conclusion of the Lambeth Conference, that the world needs Christ revival to help civilizing weather the crisis of the atomic age. He called for "an uncomprehending preaching of Jesus Christ as our Lord and Saviour."

Observers in Washington, D.C., say much more than a "courtesy visit" in the coming to Canada. August 15, of U.S. Defense Secretary Forrestal. The Washington daily News said first matter on the agenda is the establishment of a front net across the north end of the continent.

In the Detroit River, near Windsor, a freighter carrying a car ferry of the Wabash Railway and tumbled a carload of meat into the river, blocking a portion of the main channel.

In Shanghai, 62 men and women are dead and 28 others are expected to die as a result of a lightning bolt and flash fire which struck the Yang Pie shirt factory. Only slight damage to the building was caused.

Robert Menzies, Australian opposition leader, has asked for greater internal unity in the British Commonwealth. "I can only believe," he said, "that it is a healthy thing for Europe and the world to permit the peace settlement to become a single conflict, between the British Union and the U.S., with British influence a relatively minor one."

Britain

British housing authorities expected to exceed their immediate post-war housing program, of 750,000 homes, by September. The plan still has 21,223 units to go. A total of 21,189 homes were built during June, with the figure since April 1, 1946, set at 462,731, permanent and temporary dwellings. Most vital factor in the scheme: availability of soft-wood timber.

Liberal Platform Opposed To Govt.

(Continued from Page 1) precepts previously had been rejected by the administration. A third departure was in calling for federal subsidization of low-cost housing. The government has been against subsidizing housing.

ANOTHER DIVERGENCE One more divergence was in calling for abolition of court appeal to the privy council.

Publicly, the government has been non-committal toward requests to give Canada's courts full and independent status. Privately it has told Liberal caucus that it is willing to go along with that idea to some extent, but not all the way.

Thus, the party gave the government a nudge over the line beyond which it was unwilling to go.

On dominion-provincial relations, the convention approved of the government's current attitude—that it is endorsed in 1945 federal proposals to the provinces and expressed the hope they would be implemented.

A YEAR CONVENTIONS On the political front, it laid down the policies of four-year party conventions—the last one was in 1939—no coalition with any other group and opposition to Socialism and Communism.

It ran into some difficulties on the plank dealing with a "distinctive" Canadian flag. This did not satisfy those who wanted a flag without either the Union Jack or the Fleur de Lis. The delegates settled eventually for an "exclusively Canadian" flag.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Canada presents a new threat to Hollywood's film supremacy.

Extensive plans are under way to make 10 films in the Dominion in two years, using a studio in Montreal, plus untrained Canadian screeners, Lenny Fields, former producer at Republic Studios here, are already set.

Tired, ailing, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands will leave her Crown and country next month when she retires in favor of her well-beloved daughter, Princess Juliana.

Jack Allee, clothing store proprietor in Toronto, didn't believe that the well-dressed young man was a thief—until the man handed out a rifle and jammed it into his ribs. Then Allee grabbed him by the coat collar and threw him out of the store.

Lucille Ball reports that square dancing is the latest fad in Hollywood parties. "It's fun—and funny—trimming, too," she says.

Bill Holden still hasn't resolved his differences with Paramount. His contract is owned jointly by Paramount and Columbia and he says he's "tired of being kicked between the two like a football."

Hebe Daniels will give her 16-year-old daughter, Barbara, an acting chance in "Catch Me Before I Kill," a juvenile delinquency yarn which Rebe is producing for Eagle-Lion.

His widow and a son, John R. Audubert, reside at Finch Creek.

"A Date With Judy" (MGM) burlesques the antics of teen-agers in a domestic comedy with music. Varied talents of Wallace Beery, Jane Powell, Carmen Miranda and Elizabeth Taylor help offset the obvious story.

STILL NOT ENOUGH

However, this apparently has not made itself felt to a sufficient extent to relieve Canada's shortage of United States dollars.

The situation has shown improvement, however, with Canadian reserves of gold and United States dollars reaching $742,000,000 at June 28, the last date for which figures are available. From a low of $481,000,000 last Dec. 17, the June 28 figure included $160,000,000 drawn on a $300,000,000 loan negotiated last year with the United States export-import bank.

Canada has to Dec. 31 to draw on the remainder of this loan but she is not expected to do so because in July she floated a long-term mortgage loan in New York for $150,000,000 to pay off the part of the export-import loan already advanced.

In yesterday's announcement the bulk of Canadian purchases were in food for the United Kingdom amounting to $35,000,000. It comprised: Wheat $10,000,000; wheat flour $8,000,000; bacon $5,000,000; cheese $1,000,000.

Other items were nickel for France $118,500; hides and skins for the United Kingdom $60,000; iron ore for The Netherlands $87,500.

The mine occurred early Friday and CPR officials here said it was caused by heavy rains. Trains were rerouted over Canadian National routes while work crews cleared the track.

Foreign Aid Funds Boon to Dominion

Heavy Purchases Are Made Here For Europe Recovery

By Clyde Blackburn WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Due to United States financing of food supplies for the United Kingdom, Canada's share in the flood of Foreign Aid dollars last week was the highest since the Economic Co-operation Administration started operating April 1.

Of a total of $94,102,499 worth of purchase authorizations announced yesterday by ECA and covering the last week, Canada got $30,015,500, more than one third. Total purchases authorized for outside the United States in this period were $43,571,700.

It is estimated Canada already has received ECA orders which will be paid in United States dollars in an amount close to $200,000,000.

However, this apparently has not made itself felt to a sufficient extent to relieve Canada's shortage of United States dollars.

Refuge Motor Ship Heads For Montreal

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 9.—(CP)—The Estonian motor vessel Arcturion which arrived here last week carrying 28 refugees from Soviet Communist-ruled Poland, is scheduled to leave for Montreal today.

Ten women and seven children were aboard the tiny ship which arrived here from Scotland.

Grit Delegates Return To City

Northern Alberta delegates to the National Liberal convention which closed Saturday in Ottawa returned to Edmonton by air on Sunday. The delegates reported an enthusiastic convention and one man indicated "the common people" had voted their opinions freely.

Mr. James A. MacKinnon, minister of mines and resources, and member of parliament for Edmonton West, is expected to report on Wednesday.

Little Activity Here Reported by Police

Edmonton was free of serious accidents and major crimes during the week-end.

Taken to hospital, but not requiring treatment, was Joseph A. MacKinnon, 1015 35 street, driver of an auto which collided with another car owned by John Fellows Jr. of Leduc, Saturday.

The accident occurred at 90 street and Jasper avenue.

Ulricher was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital by city ambulance.

At Kall Motors, 1184 Jasper street, unlawful entry was made to the used car lot, office keys, to a automobile taken, and the car, 1947, stolen from the adjacent car lot.

ANOTHER ENTRY
A similar search for auto keys was made by thieves who entered garage premises of Frank Coulson, 1012 130 street, but nothing was stolen.

An attempt to jimmy the door of the Imperial Optical Company of 323 Tegner Building, Saturday, was unsuccessful.

Police believe the same would-be burglar attempted entry to the offices of Dr. Harold Orr and Dr. W. S. Hamilton in the same building.

At 1050 113 street a garage was entered by breaking the padlock, and a rifle stolen, Eric Smith reported to police.

West Jasper People Protest Fund Setup

Taxpayers of West Jasper Place will hold a special meeting to protest the "inadequate" share of funds that their district has been receiving.

Representatives of the Social Credit, Liberal and CCF parties have been invited to attend the meeting at the 106 street school, at 8 p.m., Friday, August 13.

R. F. Lambert, president West Jasper Place Taxpayers' Association, and J. M. Stone, councillor for Division 1 (including West Jasper Place), are responsible for the meeting.

They intend "to determine the reasons for such apparent mismanagement of funds" by the nation against West Jasper Place in the division of funds," of the Social Credit Party.

INDICATION
In a joint statement, they said that the political parties represented will be asked to indicate what legislation, in aid of municipalities, might be expected from the party in power after the election.

Mr. Lambert, here it was what they requested about West Jasper Place's "new deal."

Under the current rate of taxation for 1948, Jasper Place area contributes over $25,000 to the general funds of Stony Plain Municipality.

"According to the Municipal Act, this rate of last year's rates in Division 1 would be entitled to $18,000, all grants extra."

Supply Of Steel To Get Tighter
CLEVELAND, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Finished steel shipments probably will break all records in 1948, but the tight supply situation is likely to get tighter, steel magazine reported Sunday.

The magazine reported total movement of more than 25,000 net tons of finished steel in the first half of this year, exceeding by nearly 27,000 tons the record set in the last half of 1947.

But, the magazine continued, even if production continues at the high rate anticipated, expansion of tonnage shipments under the voluntary export restraints will curtail the amount of steel available during the third quarter.

QUESTION MARK
The long-term outlook for world peace is a question mark, says Matt Halton.

There will be no war between the Western Powers and Russia in the next 10 years in the view of Matt Halton, Canada's CBC correspondent in Europe.

The Pincher Creek-born and writer will address the Kinross at a luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel.

His topic is "Aspects of the world crisis."

"Russia wants war less than any of the other powers at this time, my belief," Mr. Halton declared in an interview.

He said he based his belief on the great material and human losses suffered by Russia in the last war, and on the temporary advantage possessed by the Western Allies in the atomic bomb.

Smallest attendance of the three parties was obtained by the four Social Credit candidates.

Their low was Thursday night when two meetings were scheduled, but both were cancelled because of one lone citizen showed up.

MANNING BACK
It is expected that the Socials will get a shot in the arm this week when that Premier Ernest Manning has returned from out-of-town campaigning.

The premier and other four candidates running for Edmonton will address three meetings tonight.

Best attendance to date was reported by Liberal candidate P. J. Lazarovich, KC, during the week-end.

Grave Danger in Apathy

Unless the people of Edmonton, and presumably the people of all Alberta, begin to take this current election campaign a little more seriously, the next government of this province can be almost anything.

On Thursday night in Edmonton a Liberal party meeting drew an audience of 20 people. A C.P. meeting was attended by 19 people. Two Social Credit meetings were cancelled entirely because nobody showed up but the chairmen and speakers. In one instance the janitor of the building did not even appear to lock the door.

The explanation of this apathy is not difficult to find.

The people of Alberta are so utterly convinced that the Manning government will be returned that they are not interested, apparently, in the arguments of the various candidates.

This is a most unwholesome state of affairs. For a lackadaisical vote invites a lackadaisical administration. Voters get exactly the kind of government they deserve.

All the candidates of all the parties are entitled to a fair hearing. They are all entitled to present their views before all the electorate.

Even more dangerous is the fact that apathy in the campaign points to apathy in the voting.

We believe the majority of the people of Alberta want the Manning government returned. We agree with the view that only the return of the Manning government will guarantee this province stable and decisive administration.

But the Manning government will not be returned on wishful thinking or on a tacit approval that is not registered vigorously at the polls.

Only votes will return the Manning government.

Without those votes, based on a vital interest in the campaign, almost any kind of a conglomerate mass can be shoved into office.

There is grave danger in the current apathy.

It is time the people of Edmonton and of Alberta began to give the election the live interest its importance demands.

Agee 'Wallace' Youths' Horrible

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Mrs. Rebecca West's description of the youth at the Wallace convention as "horrible" has brought vehement reaction from some of their friends who defended them as exceptionally fine young men who were exceedingly well-read.

(Miss West is an English novelist who once addressed the convention for a newspaper syndicate.)

In this country, youth is treated with exceptional tenderness, and to suggest that any part of it can be "horrible" shocks American sensibilities.

When Negro Paul Robeson appeared, a crowd of young women, who had poured into the press field, greeted him with delighted exclamations. I remained good-naturedly to Mrs. Anne O'Hare McCormick on Mr. Robeson's presence, but a young woman, who was crowded against me, based into my face, "but a great deal better than you are—a comparison which never had entered my mind and an attack entirely uncalled for."

Other charges were their avid response to hatred; susceptibility to sentimentality and to sentimentalism; and, moreover, although these young people "joined hands with their Negro friends" in the "hate" they were treated applause to speakers spitting venom and hatred.

When Mrs. West's criticism of the Wallace convention was published, it was the first time that the Wallace convention had been mentioned in the press.

It repeatedly was made apparent that these young people, who were the first to be mentioned in the press, were the first to be mentioned in the press.

My impression was that of a remarkable assemblage of people.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Seven Party

Editor, Bulletin.—It looks like we have done it again. Alberta has no other major political party. Already champion in the field are the U.P.A., C.P., Social Credit, Independent, and now the "Seven Party."

Here and there both in the city and in some country points, large posters advertise the new Alberta "Seven Party."

And last, but not least, there awaits development, that great area between Whitecourt and Grande Prairie, almost at Edmonton, the back door of the province, of course, but that in itself is not enough.

It's such things as the Leduc oil fields, now, to help, but through past years, and the future years it will be the north, with its mineral resources, and agriculture of the Grande Prairie and Peace River districts, of Yellowknife and Great Bear, the tourist traffic to Alaska, the great airports running into Alaska and the Orient.

And last, but not least, there awaits development, that great area between Whitecourt and Grande Prairie, almost at Edmonton, the back door of the province, of course, but that in itself is not enough.

I mention the above points for the benefit of some of our readers who have heard of such things as the Smoky bridge but who do not see why it should be considered important. I point out again to Edmontonians, and all who are interested in the future of the northern part of the province, that with the completion of the Hart highway, a railroad will be the next project in the minds of the powers that be in B.C.

Failure to develop the shortest route from the north through Alberta will force tourists, producers and minerals to go through B.C. That could be costly to your fair city and people south.

DELOIT, A. E. R. TURNER

Alberta's Oil Policy

Editor, Bulletin.—In your issue of Aug. 4 under the heading "Alberta's Oil Policy," you note that the 15 per cent royalty paid by the oil companies to the province of Alberta through their government is about 60 per cent of the net return of the companies.

If this be so, then when the Regina and Edmonton oil fields are developed, the 60 per cent royalty to the Alberta government they must be giving two or three dollars net profit for every dollar profit they receive.

You may say that the co-operative did not put up the money to explore the field. I understand that the oil company did not either, but that the "Smoky Trail" dredged of a bridge across the Smoky river, a dream road to the "outside." That dream was to remain a dream for almost 40 years until the province of Alberta took it over.

I understand to help the Regina co-operative in its exploration.

What a lot of folk in the democratic world are doing to help the oil company is to help the oil company.

Sweden's declaration that she intends to maintain "armed neutrality" in a third world war, and her efforts to persuade Norway to join her in this stand, has caused the oil companies to be concerned.

New Leader of the Liberals

The tacit understanding that the leadership of the Liberals should alternate between English-speaking and French-speaking Canadians has been carried out in the selection of the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent as head of the party.

Doubtless Mr. St. Laurent's candidacy gained considerable support from English-speaking delegates through the fact that his age will not preclude a long tenure of office. A 66-year-old man can hardly be expected to hold the post more than six or seven years since Mr. King himself is retiring, after 29 years of leadership, at the age of 73.

It is probably the expectation that Mr. St. Laurent will relinquish the chieftaincy after one or two parliaments at most and the leadership will revert, traditionally, to an English-speaking leader.

But those who listened to the oration accorded him at the convention on Saturday afternoon must realize that his choice rested upon a confidence and a respect that go much deeper than a mere tradition.

There was genuine affection in that demonstration. And there was affection and trust in the happy commendation given him by Mr. King.

And the new leader's address to the convention, both before and after his election, supported in that vigorous independence, the opinion that most Canadians had formed of him through knowledge of his comparatively brief but effective and talented career in the government.

Mr. St. Laurent impressed the delegates and impressed all who heard him. "The consensus of all that the Liberal party is fortunate in his availability and in its selection."

Racial Amity in Canada

The Daily Express of London pays a high compliment to Canada in discussing a possible federation of Jews and Arabs in Palestine. It says that the successful union of French and British territories in the 19th century in Canada shows that racial amity is possible within the bounds of a single political entity.

This view of a competent observer from abroad is both valuable and interesting. For the average Canadian is wont to think of the union of French and British in Canada as something of a political handicap and something that has been productive of friction and animosity.

This opinion is so commonplace that the other side of the picture is usually forgotten. Actually, we see friction and animosity because we expect to see it. Frequently when we try to put our fingers on it it is not there.

French and British conflict in Canada is largely legendary. There is naturally, some slight guttural between people who do not speak each other's language.

But it is difficult to find an English-speaking Canadian who is not friendly to the French and British, even in the remotest sections of Quebec.

It is equally difficult to find a French-speaking Canadian who honestly complains of discrimination or ill-usage in the English-speaking parts of the country.

As a matter of hard fact, Canadians of both French and British blood have a healthy respect and liking for each other. And whatever differences of opinion there may be are magnified out of all truthful proportions by those who have an interest in stirring up trouble between the two races.

There are malcontent minorities, of course. But they do not represent the feeling or opinion of the great bulk of citizens of both races.

The most convincing proof of this fundamental racial amity in Canada lies in the fact that literally millions of Canadians of many racial origins are content to accept without question or resentment the potential political leadership of French-Canadian contenders for the position of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The truth is that French and British conflict in Canada is largely a myth. And the Daily Express of London sees the fact more clearly than those of us who are close to the situation to see it in true perspective.

Perlo Refuses To Identify Accuser

Witness Won't Answer On Grounds of Incrimination

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Victor Perlo refused today to say whether he knows the woman who accused him of heading a group of United States government employees which she said gave wartime secrets to a Communist spy ring. He also refused to say whether he ever has been a Communist.

The sharp featured witness appeared before a committee of the House of Representatives investigating alleged espionage activities and declined to answer questions after questioning on the grounds it might tend to incriminate or degrade him.

But he testified recently in a long term of service in various government agencies and to be at present an economist at headquarters of the new progressive party in New York City.

Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, who calls herself a former communist, testified that Perlo directed one group of government workers which passed along wartime secrets which she handed Russian agents.

She said that Perlo supplied her figures on aircraft production while he served on the war production board.

CALLED TO STAND
Miss Bentley was called to the stand. She repeated what she had said last week, that Perlo headed one group of government employees who supplied information to a red spy ring.

Robert Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, interrupted her to tell the committee he was prepared to show that Perlo was given special permission to copy secret data from the records of the resources protection board.

These records, she added, contained information on all phases of war production, as well as details on "the most secret, vulnerable key points" in the entire war program, and information on strategic transportation facilities, she said.

GAVE HER INFORMATION
Miss Bentley said Perlo gave her information on everything Stripling mentioned except transportation facilities. "What did you do with the information?" Stripling asked.

"I read through it, sometimes copied it, and then turned it over to my Russian contacts," she replied. "The first one was named Bill, and the second was called Jack."

The committee planned to call mystery witness Alexander Koraletsky.

Still another witness is out of reach in Moscow, said a source in New York. But the House of Representatives committee on un-American activities awaited word as to whether a formal demand would be made for her appearance.

Acting chairman E. A. Tamm (Rep., S.D.) said a committee agent is ready with a subpoena for Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina if the state department rises such diplomatic immunity does not extend down to consultants.

WHITTAKER ROW
Mrs. Kosenkina, who has been teaching at a school for Russian children in New York, is the key figure in a row among White and Red Russians. The Soviet consul in New York said she was a White Russian, who wanted to prevent her return to the USSR. The White Russian said the woman came to them for refuge and in turn of her life, only to be taken away to the consulate Saturday against her desires.

Mundt said the committee would like to question Mrs. Kosenkina because he understands she is willing to talk about all phases of Soviet "intrigue" in this country.

Meanwhile the case of a second Russian school teacher who passed up his scheduled return to Russia and, in addition, took his story to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, also held the committee's attention.

Mundt said he will call Michael Ivanovitch Samarin for questioning "if he can find him."

Mundt's assertion came after he had received a report that Samarin had given himself up to the FBI.

The FBI spokesman insisted Samarin was not being held in custody.

Power Licked Himself For Liberal Leadership

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—(CP)—By a light twist of irony, Hon. C. G. Power, third man in Saturday's vote for a new Liberal leader, actually licked himself seven years ago.

It was Mr. Power who advised Prime Minister Mackenzie King to take Louis St. Laurent into the cabinet.

Mr. King made that clear as he expressed "particular opinion" of the national Liberal convention over his choice of Mr. St. Laurent as his successor.

ANXIOUS MOMENT
The prime minister confessed that the death in 1941 of "my dear friend," former justice minister Laurier produced "the most anxious moment of all for me" during the entire war, Mr. Laurier had been to me a right hand support."

However, he asked then minister Power, "will you tell me who is the best person to choose from Quebec to take his place?" Mr. Power replied "without a moment's hesitation, 'the one man you should try to get is Louis St. Laurent.'"

SEVERED FAITHFULLY
Mr. King immediately asked Mr. St. Laurent to meet him at Laurier House "about matters concerning the war." Mr. St. Laurent agreed that national service should have priority consideration in war, but he wanted to do one thing before making up his mind—he wanted to talk it over with his wife.

Since that time, "no man has ever served his country more faithfully more honorably or more ably," Mr. King declared.

St. Laurent Chosen To Succeed King

One guess is that Premier Garrison of Manitoba will be appointed justice minister, succeeded by James James, who resigned last June 30.

PLEADED SPOY
In his acceptance speech Saturday, Mr. St. Laurent thanked the convention from the "heart of his heart." Both Mr. Gardiner and Mr. Power pledged to support the new leader, but the election was made unanimous.

"I pledge my troth to discharge the responsibilities which have been placed upon me," said Mr. St. Laurent.

He said it was a great honor to be associated in any way with services held by the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. King, retiring after 29 years as leader of the party.

It was Mr. King who made a special trip to a festal dinner for Mr. St. Laurent in Quebec two years ago and asked his French-speaking lieutenant to remain for some time longer at his side.

Mr. St. Laurent agreed to stay in the cabinet at that time. When Mr. King announced last winter that he planned to retire from the leadership, Mr. St. Laurent announced he would be a candidate for the post.

NATIONAL UNITY
Born of a French-Canadian and an Irish-Canadian, his mother, Mr. St. Laurent made national unity the keynote of his

CADETS GIVE FILM STAR BIG RECEPTION

BANFF, Aug. 9.—(CP)—A group of 50 army cadets from Banff gave a rousing reception to film star Randolph Scott yesterday.

The noted Western star paid a visit to the cadets' Banff camp and was kept busy signing autographs and answering questions. He is in Banff to begin work on "Canadian Pacific," a motion picture depicting building of the railroad through the Canadian Rockies.

However, Mr. Scott was strictly a second rate to little Alex Sturton, about four, daughter of Maj. Alex Sturton of Western Army Command, Edmonton.

She was only interested to know if the western star knew screen child Margaret O'Brien.

Australian Captures Single Sculls Crown

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Mervyn Wood of Australia today won the Olympic single sculls final.

Wood had a margin of more than four lengths over Eduardo Basso of Uruguay, who had eliminated the United States' John B. Kelly, Jr., in a surprising semi-final upset.

Homolo Catala of Italy finished third. Wood's time was seven minutes, 34.2 seconds.

The British entry won the pairs without-oarsman. The British won over Switzerland, with Italy third. The first race of the day went to the United States' four with coxswain, also a final.

The crew from the University of Washington defeated Switzerland and Denmark.

Later, the American eight-oared shell won the rowing eighth. Britain's crew was second and Norway's third.

The United States retained the Olympic eight title, adding to a string of victories which started in 1920.

Elect Officers
Aug. 9.—(CP)—T. E. Scrivner of the Weekly, Sask. News, was elected president of the Saskatchewan division of Canadian weekly newspapers' association, Saturday. He succeeds Dr. S. J. Dornan of Alameda, Gerald Humphrey of the Nokomis Times was elected vice-president and Walter Abbott of the Greenleaf Sun secretary-manager.

Mr. Power asked delegates to support him as a "reform" candidate for the leadership. He told news-people the party to reform its electoral system, its parliamentary system and its administrative ministerial system. He lashed out at government bureaucracy and said the Liberal party should once again regain its title as the defender of provincial rights.

It is not yet clear when Mr. St. Laurent will take over the office of prime minister. He told news-people at a press conference shortly after his election that he will discuss the matter with Mr. King this week.

LIBERAL COALITION WITH TORIES SEEN

LONDON, Aug. 9.—(HUP)—The London Times devoted its leading editorial today to the election of the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent as leader of the Liberal party in Canada in succession to Prime Minister "Mr. St. Laurent's distinguished tenure of the ministry of external affairs has established him as by far the outstanding member of the party after his predecessor," the paper said. "It is not likely that the government formed by him will look beyond him when choosing a new prime minister."

The editorial touched on the possibility of a coalition government between the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives after the next federal general election. In this connection, it said St. Laurent's appointment was significant since he belonged to the right wing of the Liberal party and "would certainly be the best qualified of its members to lead a combined team."

Life has Changed for the Family Man

Most men live longer than their grandfathers. Women have a better life expectancy, too. So have children, not only that, but children nowadays spend more of their years getting an education.

These facts have brought significant changes in the family financial obligations. They mean that he must be prepared to support everyone in his family longer—including himself!

Fortunately, there is an effective way of meeting financial obligations of this nature—a well-planned insurance programme. Life insurance is a sure means by which a man can provide protection for his family in the event of his death or an income for himself should he live to retirement age.

The family man is wise to review his insurance requirements in view of changing conditions. If you would like expert advice, a representative of the Manufacturers Life will be glad to give it to you.

Yates Comes Up With Another Consistent Winner - Last Sun

By STAN MOHER
(Bulletin Sports Editor)

Trust owner-trainer Bill Yates of Calgary to have at least one "five horse in his stable."

Two years ago the ill-fated Larry Junior was the star of the Yates string. At one stage he racked up six wins in a row. Later, however, he hit at Spokane, tried mightily to get him back. Eventually Larry Junior broke down, had to be destroyed.

Last season it was Sister's Best that kept the Yates name out front, particularly during the fall meeting. This also allowed for an unbroken string of six trips to the winner's circle. In the autumn the gelding was claimed out of a race in the east.

Currently the most talked of horse in prize ring circles is Last Sun, also of the Yates' interests. There's just no shutting out this fellow. Frequently the aging bay, son of Sunshot-North Kelly, takes the fat end of the purse. If he isn't a winner he's second or winds up in the show slot. Last Sun has come to be rated one of the most consistent hayburners in the history of western Canada racing.

Saturday's summer meeting was spang at the Exhibition oval—the 11-year-old stole the show with a victory in the Thad Stevens handicap. Judge George Washington Schilling had named the feat in honor of a fine horse of the 1890's.

The gelding, who had won 11 of 15 with 15 pounds, but Alex Haller spurred his mount away from the gate by easily take over the front and he was never seriously threatened during the 1 1/2 miles. Conversely, carrying the "feather" got up in time to be second. Playfair was third.

Last Sun's popular meeting (the was 1-2 in the mutuel) highlighted a day that saw the annual August meet get away to a first class start. Despite the downpour that drenched the track just at post time a good hand for the day was in the house was a gathering that made free and easy with hankers and the handle went to better than $80,000, some seven per cent over the same day last year.

It was a tough season on favorites. Except for Last Sun winning effort the club play following a dismal time it as good thing after good thing fell by the wayside. However, something pretty solid usually showed up in the wire and no payoffs-in-China graced the board at any time.

Tusco outstaged Memphis Lad to take the opening race, while Brown won the second off by itself the daily double payoff hit $70 and some silver.

Vladimir Craig was dropped into a soft spot in the third and coupled by six open lengths after the fourth. The original feature—the Presidents' cap—was raised out and Mrs. G. W. Brown, son's O My Dear made capital of the fact to take it all in the sub-race race which went instead.

Rider Stan Connell and four-year-old Con Lawender proved unbeatable in the club play following which Yankee Trader in no more than a half mile, collected a win in the fourth. 'YEA BROCAN!' was the cry from those lucky punters who had hooked the chestnut to Tusco as their daily double combination at the track Saturday. Brocan, Frank McTague up, is shown in the winners' circle after copying the second race.

BOBBY CARSE COPS COUNTRY CLUB TITLE

Wild Throw to First Base Proves Downfall of Leafs

REGINA, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Championship went to Regina and Winnipeg Saturday as the main event of the Western Canada tennis tournament concluded.

Long Stott of Regina took out Jack John Stott, Edmonton, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0, to win the men's singles title. While Ken Hodges of Winnipeg defeated Chris Dunmore of Calgary, youth full son of the men's singles.

In an all-Winnipeg men's doubles final, George Felstead and Hank Bennett, backed back Hovey and Jack Wootton in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5, and Mils Otton and Sade Ludlow of Regina combined to beat Mrs. Irene J. Peterson of Regina and Mrs. Anne Cree of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

CLEAN SWEEP

Was a clean sweep for Mils Otton and Hank Bennett as they defeated fellow Winnipegger Don Levison to win the mixed doubles title, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0 from Felstead and Eleanor Moore of Regina.

In a court sprinkled liberally with double faults, perhaps due to a crucial rain shower, Hodges had more difficulty in taking the top-seeded Stott than the score indicated.

The former Davis cup candidate, ranked fifth in Canada, utilized a crisp straight serve while Ken Hodges, ranked 10th, used a variety of shots to keep Stott off balance. Hodges had more difficulty in taking the top-seeded Stott than the score indicated.

Bobby Carse, well-known Edmonton hockey star and a former champion, again won the Country Club title Sunday when he defeated Jack Meldrum 2 and 1 in the 36-hole final.

In the semi-finals Carse stopped Emerson Mack, former Calgary champion, 2 and 1 and Meldrum ousted Don Letke, last year's champion, by a similar count.

Jim Ruby out-steaded Harry Webb 3-2 to take first flight honors in the semi-finals he defeated Bob Corcoran one up and Webb eliminated H. V. Allan 3 and 2.

Ed Bryant downed Phil Wensley 5 and 4 to cop second flight honors. His victim in the semi-finals was Ronny Lane, 2 and 1. Wensley topped W. Simpson 3 and 2.

The sky had cleared for an instant and the sun was shining at Clarke Stadium. The late afternoon sun was shining brightly over the baseball field as the Red Sox took the field for the first game of the season.

EAC 1, and 500 others were in a rather a victory rode on every club with two out in EAC's half of the extra inning.

Suddenly a shortstop fielded an easy roller, then threw wildly to first base. Instantly a runner streaked from third, giving EAC the lead. The Maple Leaf side had disappeared.

For that was it, the sudden death game which gave the Clubmen their first playoff win and a berth opposite Canadians in the semi-finals. To qualify they had to win the toughest game of the year in the junior park.

RAULT WINS CIVIC GOLF TOURNAMENT

Norman Rault, who has been shooting away below his handicap of late, breezed home with a 79 and net 65 to win the Civic Service golf championship at the Prince Rupert course Saturday afternoon.

Police Chief R. R. Rault, 78, for the low gross, but his net 70 was five off the pace of the winner.

Flo Plante, a 36-handicapper, carried off the women's championship with a net 80, while Jean Wallbridge had low gross with a fine 90 score.

The pot was boiling furiously at Glenora Tennis Club at the weekend with the annual provincial tournament already under way for local performers and the out-of-town talent scheduled to swing into action early Monday.

Return from Regina of the Edmonton delegation that has been at last week's western Canada hard court tournament took some of the best of the Alberta side. Red-haired Johnny Stott, who battled to the final of the men's singles, was especially the centre of attraction.

Youthful Nancy Collinge (who bears a famous tennis name in these parts), fresh from winning the junior ladies' laurels at the western Canada, came in for a wealth of congratulations.

Sunday School Aids Flood Fund

Training of the unit, said Gen. Mass, will be in two distinct phases. The first in parachute and the second in air-transported training, both to be conducted concurrently.

An airborne combat team, said the general, comprising an entire company of men who volunteered for training as paratroopers will move to the Joint Air School at Rivers, Man.

The unit, which knew nothing of the arrangements made for it, was told that a total of 10 weeks will be spent at the joint air school by the company combat team, the paratrooper element of the battalion.

SEVEN PRACTICE JUMPS

Each member of the team will do a minimum of seven practice jumps from assault aircraft. In addition, all will be trained in the loading of aircraft and gliders and air-transported operations.

The Princess Pats, which stormed the beaches of Pachino in the invasion of Italy in 1943, will be air-lifted and deployed as a unit at the completion of basic training.

"WONDERFUL" is how Edmonton's criminals describe daily rations of stew prepared for them by Constable Musa at Edmonton jail. A good cook in any man's language, Constable Musa created the recipe himself and considers it the mainstay of jail house menu.

There's Stew For You If You're In a Stew or Stewed

By PAT McVEAN

Constable Musa's stew may not be reason enough for going to jail, but at least it's a consolation if you do find yourself there.

Constable Musa in addition to being turnkey at Edmonton's city jail is probably Canada's master chef in the crime world.

It's his stew that he does it modestly, "just good quality meat, some vegetables—carrots and potatoes—sometimes just a little bit of garlic."

A convicted dope peddler, Jack Weir, in the city jail kitchen when The Bulletin called, disagreed.

"It's wonderful," he said, "absolutely wonderful. First thing we say when we get to Edmonton is John, how about some of that wonderful stew?"

With most people under the impression that prisoners are fed bread and water, and with a Philadelphia prison currently making headlines with the news that in future, it's inmates will be served coffee in addition to the dry bread and cold water fare, Edmonton's jail is a high class eating house by contrast.

The reputation is maintained in spite of the fact that only a small appropriation of taxpayers' funds is used for feeding jail inmates.

An expedition of the possibilities of private enterprise has also been set forth in direct mail advertising to chief executives of large industrial concerns in Canada and the U.S.

It was pointed out that in many cases the campaign has been assisted by private industry in the form of the beverage, even though industry being sought would be, in many cases, in direct competition with those already existing.

Publicity for the campaign has been prepared by the Harold J. Stantfield Limited advertising company.

Govt. Heads Launch Drive For Alberta

The world is being told about Alberta.

The Department of Economic Affairs of the Alberta provincial government has embarked upon a campaign to interest the English-speaking world in the industrial potentialities of the province.

The campaign, conducted by advertising experts from the field of private enterprise, has been directed at industries which can make use of Alberta raw materials.

Medium selected for the advertising was, in large measure, financial papers of eastern Canada and the U.S.

The list includes such publications as the Financial Times, the Wall Street Journal, Fortune, The Review, Time Magazine and others.

Air Raid Defence Vital To Dominion

WONTO, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Col. W. W. Gofford, Canada's wartime director of weapons and development and now a Toronto businessman, said Saturday that he thinks Canada should start preparations immediately to meet Russian air attack.

He told a reporter that he believes that war is unlikely to break out in 1953, but organization of an efficient air raid precaution system takes years.

The reporter asked Col. Gofford, considered an authority on defence, for his view on Canadian defence needs. Col. Gofford said that in his opinion Canada's main need was defence against possible air attack by Russian bombers.

He listed as high priority targets against which Russia has grown long-range bombers, the grain elevators at Fort William and rail marshalling yards at Winnipeg and Montreal.

Mercy Flight Saves Youth 16-Year-Old Shot Rushed Here by RCMP

Hope for his life abandoned unless he could receive expert medical attention, a 16-year-old Indian boy, seriously injured in a shooting accident, was flown to Edmonton from Wabiskaw Saturday.

Wabiskaw is 180 air miles north of Edmonton.

The youth, Charles Albert Nooki, non-treaty Indian, is at the Shernards hospital. An operation performed Saturday night to remove a rifle bullet from his abdomen was successful, and his condition is reported as "as good as can be expected."

An RCMP aircraft piloted by Sgt. H. Heacock left immediately for the isolated northern post. A detachment of public health nurses accompanied the RCMP sergeant on the mercy flight.

HUNTING ACCIDENT

The plane returned to Edmonton early Saturday evening where the boy was rushed to hospital.

Nooki was hunting alone at the time of the accident, police said. His rifle discharged as he was aiming it in the canoe he planned to use, the bullet entering his stomach.

Competitors were handicapped by strong, variable wind and cloudy skies.

He was one of four competitors who obtained a score of 199 out of a possible 200 in the 100 yard event.

First prize in the event went to a Quebec shooter, J. Lavigne, Quebec, who placed more shots in the target's inner for his 199 points.

Almost Blind Man Invents Small Tractor

This is the story of amazing accomplishment in the face of nearly insurmountable odds.

The story was told today by A. J. Wieler, sub-post office 23, Stony Plain Road, and it is the story of his cousin, Jacob Wieler, of Swift Current, Saskatchewan.

Jacob Wieler has designed and built a garden size tractor, with attached cultivator's which he plans to sell.

But Mr. Wieler has been nearly blind since he was four years old and has been totally blind for three years.

A bout of typhoid robbed him of the ability to see anything but the bare difference between day and night.

He works in a shop which he has equipped with $3,000 worth of power tools, and does everything, including welding, himself.

Congratulate him for this project is available from Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Edmonton Pipers Top Field

Sugar Transportation Difficulties Easing

By Bea Thrifty

With loads of sugar promised for this week, we queens of the kitchen should really begin to operate again. I'm sure everyone of you knows that the so-called sugar shortage was nothing more than a transportation tie-up in British Columbia.

But it couldn't have happened at a less opportune time could it?

Housewives aren't the only ones worrying about the sugar problem. Tons of perishable fruit will go to waste if Madame Housewife can't have the sugar to preserve it.

Wholesalers have promised sugar almost any time for two weeks now—but it still comes at a snail's pace. But it's good cheer makers—can't be lost forever.

This has been an interesting if not a harrowing year for the hucksters of fruit and vegetables. Late spring, rampaging Fraser river, transportation difficulties, too much rain at the wrong times—all have up to a point—made a handful of problems to have been contended with.

Retailers are guarding their soap supplies carefully. They are left over from war-time shortages, storekeepers are keeping a wary eye open for hoarders. Hoarders are an extremely low grade of humanity, but they persist in carrying out their selfish ways.

But enough of the acid tongue and the word or two about sugar is apt to be anything but a suggestion of the hearts of the cook supreme.

Just reach for the salt and pepper if seasoning is called for in a recipe. But if you are short of a pinch of salt, or a dash of pepper, or a pinch of sugar, or a dash of anything else, it's the venture cook who isn't afraid to try a suggestion of this and a whisper of that, but who is not a true cook.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby's First Need Is Definite Security

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It should not be expected that there will be smooth sailing no matter whether the new baby is breast or bottle fed.

Coming home, as the new mother is wont to do, as early as five days after the baby's birth, may mean that she will have to struggle with the initial adjustment of the baby to his new formula, or to the period of stabilization of the baby.

The self-regulated schedules of today are a real help to the young mother. Hereafter, she had to endure the baby's crying unless it was time to give him food, or to change the baby's clothing.

Today, the baby's hunger cry and his rooting for food are the signals for time to be given, and sometimes, as the mother discovers, this is a pretty erratic performance.

Kiss and Make Up

From your letter I judge that your daughter belongs to this lodge and so does the boy friend, and that there is nothing they enjoy so much as a good fight.

It seems there and after they have gone after each other their anger and insulting things they can think of, they kiss and make up, and that's all until the next time.

If your daughter really wanted peace, she would have to let you know you are foolish to worry over her.

Tory Leadership Seen 2 Man

Drew and Diefenbaker Stand Out in Coming Convention

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Some Progressive Conservative party supporters are predicting that the party's leadership convention next month will develop into a nip-and-tuck battle between two men—Premier Drew of Ontario and John Diefenbaker, Saskatchewan members of the commonsense.

Neither man has stated that he will accept nomination for the leadership post which John Bracken is giving up. But the supporters claim it is a foregone conclusion that they will both be nominated at the three-day convention—Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2.

Drew, 55-year-old lawyer and head of the only Progressive Conservative government in Canada, is given an edge in pre-convention speculation on the choice of Mr. Bracken's successor, but it is not known whether he will accept the job.

Some of the premier's close associates say they believe he would prefer to be head of a government in power, rather than leader of a party in opposition in a field that he has never before entered.

HAS EXPERIENCE

Diefenbaker, 52-year-old criminal lawyer, has had eight years experience in the federal House. He was first elected to the commonsense in the general election of 1940 for the Saskatchewan constituency of Lake Centre.

He contested the party leadership in 1942 when Bracken was chosen to succeed Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen, but he did not draw any major support at that time.

Since then, however, he has built up a reputation as one of the most forceful and colorful debaters in the Commonsense. More than one cabinet minister has quailed in his seat when Diefenbaker, shaking his greying curly locks and pointing an accusatory finger at the treasury benches, has attacked government policy.

HE'S CHOOSEY: IT PAYS OFF

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Cyrus Dietrich, 14-year-old angler, was pretty choosy yesterday about the fish he caught.

The first one Cyrus hauled in was a sucker. He threw it back. Too small.

The next was a white fish—also too small.

He tossed his line back in and after a while—believing his bait gone—hauled in his line.

Dangling at the end of the hook was a $5 bill.

His supporters feel he would give to the party some of the zip and color that marked the leadership of the late Vincent Benoit.

POSSIBLE CANDIDATE

Donald Fleming, 43-year-old Toronto lawyer, is also mentioned as possible candidate. Those who would favor him state that possibly he would be opposed because his experience in the Commonsense dates only from 1945.

Party officials are confident that the convention will be a success. They had observers attending the national Liberal party convention.

They followed procedure closely, made notes on talks which developed and studied ways of imitating them out.

With this experience they now are putting the finishing touches to plans.
